How we can help

Guidance on Infection Control in Schools, 2016

Handwashing is one of the most important ways of controlling the spread of infections, especially those that cause diarrhoea and vomiting, and respiratory disease.

- ✓ The recommended method is the use of liquid soap, warm water and paper towels
- ✓ Always wash hands after using the toilet, before eating or handling food, and after handling animals

WE CAN HELP

Traditionally, our most in-demand services for secondary schools have included washroom maintenance, floorcare and hygiene services. Our experts continue to meet the needs of establishments in this sector with a wide range of products and services.

Make corridors slip-proof

- Busy public areas in schools such as corridors can become hazardous when crowded, particularly when wet or dirty shoes make floors slippery. phs' serviced mats help to reduce the risk of accidents, absorbing shoe-borne dirt and moisture before it has a chance to spread.

Fewer sick days, more effective learning

- Missing lessons due to illness can prevent pupils from reaching their potential; it's therefore vital that bacteria and viruses are prevented from spreading around the school wherever possible. Precautions such as handwashing facilities with liquid soap and air purification systems will help to prevent the spread of infection, stopping students from needing to take sickness-related absence.

A welcoming place for pupils and staff

- It's important for staff and pupils to feel welcome at school, with easy access to the basic amenities needed for comfort and wellbeing. From sparkling clean washrooms to hygienic food preparation areas, phs can help to make your school a better, safer place to learn.

Fully-equipped washrooms

- Washrooms in secondary schools require regular maintenance, with top-ups of toilet roll, paper towels and soap as well as sanitary bins for discreet disposal of feminine products. phs can provide everything that your school needs to ensure that pupils and staff are able to use washrooms in a comfortable and hygienic manner.

Increased sick days, demoralised staff and a negative school reputation are all consequences that can come about by failing to put the right measures in place for optimal hygiene. Yet secondary school staff don't always have the time or equipment needed to keep areas such as washrooms, corridors and classrooms at the ideal levels of cleanliness.

It doesn't have to be like this: phs already provides affordable and convenient hygiene solutions to more than 24,000 schools and education establishments. We can help your school to thrive without compromising on hygiene, providing flexible contracts designed to fit within your budget.

By installing the right products, phs can help your secondary school to reduce water and energy bills, as well as reducing your environmental impact.
