More than ever, hygiene will be at the forefront of everyone's minds. COVID-19 has changed the way we think about our working and learning environment. At phs, we care about making sure your staff, learners and visitors are as safe as possible when returning to work.

As a partner of choice, we can help you get back to business, safely, and here's how....

Our ECLIPSE DISCREET AUTO sanitary disposal unit allows a no-touch operation, eliminating the risk of cross-contamination. And our entrance hand sanitiser stand with auto operation outputs a measured amount of solution to help minimise the spread of germs, bacteria and viruses before entering a building.

Floorcare

Help remind people to sanitise and wash their hands and to practice social distancing with our new hygiene message mats, as well as protect floors from premature damage and reduce the risk of slips.

Interclean commercial cleaning

Maintaining a well-presented, clean and hygienic environment at all times can be challenging, but there is no better time than the present. Ensure your facility is hygienic and safe, for when your learners and staff return. Our specialist cleaning process and equipment are designed to tackle even the toughest jobs, getting into those hard-to-reach places to ensure a thorough cleanse and sparkling finish to reduce the spread of germs, bacteria and viruses. By offering a clean and hygienic environment to return to, it gives everyone reassurance that they'll be safe.

Sanitary disposal

In waste disposal, we provide all types of bins, sacks and bags, from general to hygiene waste. When you dispose of your hygiene waste with phs, we will dispose of it sustainably by diverting it away from landfill, through our LifeCycle Strategy. We can also support you in providing sanitary products to learners who need them. There are schemes available in England, Wales and Scotland where free sanitary products are offered to some educational establishment, to support period equality.
